FIND AND EMBRACE INNER MAGNIFICENCE!

DIPLOMAT

Introduction

Welcome to a world far more different than any you have ever thought, imagined, or ever been told exists... A world so different than that which you were given after birth, when others set your boundaries for you! Everything that you have learned, experienced, and even believed to be true could be, and probably is, somewhat or completely untrue. The "world" that you currently reside in was created by you when you accepted what was conveyed to you by some means of suggestion, instruction, or interpretation communicated by some person, teaching, doctrine, experience, observation, or assumption. Its not surprising if you find this statement alarming. You have come across this message because either you're ready to, or something is drawing you to uncover the mystery hidden within you. Your inner magnificence!

James Inspires your faith & belief. Working together, we'll Revitalize your mind & spirit; And you, yourself, will Transform your life into an extraordinary, limitless, and victorious existence and being from the inside-out! Returning your mindset and consciousness to the Creator's original settings of 100% possible, 100% of the time!

Connect, Collaborate, and Create the world you so desire to live in. And actually break free of the mindsets and beliefs that imprison so many around this world today. Truly embrace the wholeness of life! Discovering your true essence and the seeds of magnificence that already exist within you!

This mission is not limited to the USA, where James resides in the beautiful city of Greenville, SC, but expands the four corners of the Earth thanks to the creativity, imagination and innovation of technology invented by those who've tapped into their inner magnificence; connecting anybody anywhere, anytime today virtually via the world-wide-web. James is actively drawing those searching for true life fulfillment and welcomes the encounters of all those who come on his path seeking for hope, clarity, vision, direction, real change, and total life transformations.

The purpose of this PDF is to invite, inspire, and encourage ideas that reflect examples of how James can ignite expansion in your personal and/or professional life and ambitions mentally, physically, and spiritually over the course of a year long journey of total life-transformation. Currently, James takes on less than a handful of the Diplomat level Passports per calendar year.

Who, How & What?

James specializes in teaching the power of words, the dynamics of spoken words and words put to thought; revealing their power, and the power of the thoughts that are thought, especially when backed by emotion and the imagination. An Essence and Spiritual Awareness mentor, a healer of mind (soul, body and spirit). Specializing in human potential, James is actively seeking searching souls from all over the Earth, who desire more out of life; yearning to break free and discover the hidden mystery of their true dominion status over their universe of the Cosmos. Unveiling the hidden secret to living an abundant life of wholeness and divine fulfillment!

James focuses on the following for PASSPORT™ & VISA™ holders and select DABAR LEVAV™ clients:

- Advancing human potential, unlocking the prisons of wrong thought, rebooting core identity
- Reprogramming personal and/or professional mindset, resetting it back to 100% Possible
- Serving those souls who find themselves seeking meaningful purpose and refuge in making significant life transformations

Arenas of Mastery

The following is where James excels as a seasoned teacher, healer, philosopher, coach and mentor:

Change Management ~ Inspire, Revitalize and Transform lives through facilitating self-discovery, motivating core-level personal change, promoting effective life transformations.

Teaching & Training ~ Uncovering the mysteries of & Reprogramming the mind; discovery of one's true essence, fostering significant life transformation physically, mentally, and spiritually.

Essence & Spiritual Mentoring ~ Ridding the mind of foreign, corrosive programs, incorrect or erroneous beliefs, debilitating corruption of truths, destructive habitual thoughts and repeated patterns of unprofitable behavior. Restoring the mind to the Creators original settings of 100% possible!

Leadership & Development ~ Expose, locate and replace/repair self-destructive habits, thoughts, and deep-rooted, long-treaded neural pathways. Recalibrate and realign the mindset to its original, unaltered, unfabricated state of "BEing"; resetting frequencies and vibrations to their original state of pure perfection; discovering true essence to lead with integrity and wholeness.

Spawn True Dominion Living ~ Don the robe of authority over your life and reign victoriously over the world that you live in! Mastering one's thoughts, creating one's world and reality.

Employ James "RavDabar"

Facilitator, Teacher, Coach & Mentor

The word rav (Hebrew: רַב) means Master Teacher, someone who has had more extensive training and experience in providing guidance.

The word dabar (Hebrew: דָּבָר) means "word", "talk" or "thing" in Hebrew. The root דבר (dabar) is most commonly translated with "to speak". Yet it rather means to formalize, i.e. to transcend the realms of subconscious intuition, the mental equivalent of muscle memory and the subliminal governance of experience, and to consciously describe what is going on with very precise words that everybody can understand and take to heart without having to accumulate years of experience and mental muscle memory. This verb is obviously a very big deal. It sums up the essence of human awareness, nominal reasoning and Information Technology; it allows years, decades, centuries and millennia of human experience to be compressed into data (concrete units of information), and to rise above the mind that produced it and settle into a mind that hasn't. The word דבר (dabar) specifically refers to the careful definition of anything that allows that item / situation / feeling to be discussed or even remotely experienced by people that have no intrinsic relation to it. More than 110 different English words and expressions are used to translate this one Hebrew word דבר (dabar). ~ Abarim-Publications – Hebrew Dictionary

James Ulvi | Being Me

"I find my "BEing" a daily conscious and choreographed affair that must be backed up by deliberate subconscious reprogramming, affirmations and auto-suggestion. This may be a bit of a tongue-twister; 'We have to know what we are as well as how and why we are, in order to truly be who we are.' I am a sovereign being, a divine child of God, graced with certain gifts and abilities to serve humanity in the capacity as a teacher, mentor, spiritual healer and philosopher of dominion living.

I am driven to search out a matter for knowledge, wisdom and understanding—insight, and share these with the souls of the world who come on my path of this earthly journey. Committed to render my apportion of grace from the Spirit of Love, with my heart full of compassion and preference to serve the souls entrusted to my teaching of essence and spiritual awareness mentoring.

Moment-to-moment, seeking to exude love, peace and joy in every encounter, living harmoniously with all souls, nature, and the Spirit. Being One with the Source, the All-in All, the Creator of the Cosmos, whom I know as God, my heavenly Father. I hope that does not become a stumbling block and turn away a seeking soul. I am not a dogmatic fanatic. I am a believer in the approach, the truth, and the life of God. I work with men and women of all persuasions, some with contrasting beliefs, including those philosophically and spiritually aligned differently. But the work we accomplish together is not a religious matter. I inspire your faith and belief. Together, we revitalize your mind and spirit, and you, the individual soul, transform your old life into a new life or BEing. Religion may be addressed in some cases where it has shaped beliefs and thought patterns, only to point out that we all come to the table with preconceived programming. I do not foster religion or dogmas. I simply believe that everything is 100% possible!

I inspire others to uncover what they truly believe in every area of their life. Not only what they believe spiritually, but also mentally, physically, and philosophically, so that they may gain bearing on where they stand in their essence and spiritual awareness; plotting a course to the life they desire to create.

Today, being me is joyful! I love life! I love the souls in my life! I love being present in my life, present in my family life, present in my business life, and ever present in the Spirit of Life. And I wake up every day thankful for another new opportunity to serve seeking souls again today."
