

About Us

The Institute of 3D Printing is a trading name of rigid.ink Ltd. The goal of the Institute of 3D Printing is to educate it's visitors, users, and customers how to excel using a 3D printer for personal or business use in a simple way. Founded by Ed Tyson.

For more than 6 years, Ed Tyson has been delivering 3D printing & sales education to a variety of markets. He has helped thousands master their 3D printers with confidence, as well as building a welcoming group of like-minded individuals on Facebook. He also works alongside his selected clients who have achieved 6-figure growth in their 3D printing businesses (from various starting levels), and continues to do so.
