01

Setting the Foundation

- A deep dive into your current challenges working with clients to understand where you are, your goals (personal and professional) and your blockers. This allows us to personalize our support to you as you embark upon the educational component.

02

Education & Certification

- We progressively guide you through all the pre-recorded course modules of Mineral Mastery, Clinical HTMA for Practitioners, and dnaPower. Upon completion of each course you'll receive your Certificate. CE credits for Clinical HTMA are available via the CANNP, the International Organization of Nutritional Consultants, the Institute of Holistic Nutrition and the Naturopathic Nutrition Association. Your training is complete in 12 weeks, yet you retain lifetime access to the course modules.

Personalized Coaching & Support

- Throughout the 6 month program, students have direct access to Mineral Mastery founder and core instructor Rick Fischer to ask questions via email along with live one on one Zoom calls every 2 weeks to review your learning progress and help implement your training. You are never by yourself or lost in the weeds when you're working with clients. We're all here to help build your confidence and competence in clinical practice working with the body's mineral system to ultimately improve client/patient outcomes.

Student Experiences

"I have been in the health/fitness industry for over 25 years and out of all my education have never been taught how crucial mineral balancing is. It was the missing piece in my own healing journey."

- Stacey Turner (FDN-P, Fitness Trainer, Health Practitioner)

"This is important information that makes me rethink and reorganize the way I approach patient care."

- Dr. Lori Earley (DACM, LAC, MS)

"I cannot imagine how amazing it would be if every single doctor had to learn about this in medical school."

- Lisa White (Homeopath)

"Everything I'm learning here I never learned at university in their nutrition program. So much insight that even my masters program never touched on."

- KatiePaige Richards (Naturopathic Doctor)

"Rick Fischer has made outstanding contributions to advancing the field of HTMA and minerals. His work provides a solid foundation for advancing the understanding of the vital importance of minerals related to good health."

- Dr. Malter, PhD, Clin.Psych. (retd.)

"This is the missing link in all the training I have done."

- Tracy R. (BSc., MSc., Holistic Health Therapist)
