The BEACON SpotLight
A Study of Constitutional Issues by Topic

Issue 42: Seeking New Information First & Foremost—Lesson IV

Welcome to the final lesson in the Patriot Corps video course SNIFF, short for Seeking New Information First & Foremost.

In Lesson 1, I introduced the strategy of looking to our country's founding principles for guidance, which in the normal case only allow the named "Little Powers" to be directly exercised in the "Big Implementation Area."

In Lesson II, I discussed the highly-unusual exception to all the normal rules, for the District of Columbia and other exclusive legislation lands, where "Big Powers" may be exercised in these "Little Implementation Areas" that we examined, in greater depth.

In Lesson III, I showed how far these "Big Powers" actually reached, which go so far that they defy comprehension.

In this final lesson, I will show how easy it was for Alexander Hamilton and his main partner-in-crime—U.S. Supreme Court Chief Justice John Marshall—to deviously extend the "Big Powers" available for the "Little Implementation Areas" indirectly, beyond allowable boundaries.

These two devious men and their political heirs only had to use the remaining 1% of the Constitution not yet referenced, to throw everyone off-track.

That is because that remaining 1% of the Constitution—Article VI, Clause 2—not only says that "This Constitution…shall be the supreme Law of the Land," but it also extends that same supremacy designation—pointing to federal laws that bind the States—to all laws enacted "in pursuance" of the Constitution.

Since Article I, Section 8, Clause 17 for the District Seat is necessarily part of "This Constitution," and since no words of the Constitution ever exempt this clause from being part of "This Constitution" that is the "supreme Law of the Land," then, by the strictest letter of Article VI, then even laws enacted "in pursuance" of Clause 17 therefore also form part of the "supreme Law of the Land" that may bind the States through their judges!

At least that is what the Supreme Court held, when defendants didn't know what was going on to oppose it properly.

The spirit of the Constitution would naturally exempt Clause 17 from being part of "the supreme Law of the Land," to allow States the unhindered exercise of their reserved powers, without improper interference from Congress and the U.S. Government.

No laws of any State ever bind any other State, to allow each State full use of its reserved powers. Well, neither should the State-like exclusive legislation powers of Congress ever bind the States, either, for the same reason.

But, the strictest letter of the Constitution gives no express exemptions to any part of the Constitution to exempt that part from also constituting the supreme Law of the Land, not even Clause 17.

Copyright by Matt Erickson
August 15, 2023

Therefore, Clause 17 offers clever scoundrels a false color of law—a safe haven—a sufficient pretext, for falsely exercising an unusual authority that is otherwise yet allowed by the same Constitution, at least whenever no one objects in a proper fashion, calling out the impropriety in an open and direct manner.

Almost by magic, Hamilton and Marshall pitted the strictest letter of the Constitution against its internal spirit, to create an inherent contradiction that has since existed between the two opposing conclusions on this particular topic.

And, Hamilton's political heirs have exploited that same bypass mechanism, to include everything being done today.

The scoundrels' devious bypass-mechanism does not rely upon "progressive" or "liberal" interpretation of the Constitution, as patriots claim. Instead, scoundrels hold the Constitution so strictly that strict-constructionists don't even understand what is going on.

But, this doesn't preclude us from proposing and ratifying an amendment to rectify this strife, to finally bring the letter and spirit of the Constitution into harmony, even on this issue.

Thankfully, full and open exposure may permanently end Hamilton's devious Government-By-Deception-Through-Redefinition-Scheme, so we may permanently end the false rule of paper tyrants, without seeking to elect angels to positions of unlimited powers, who become devils in the exercise of an overabundant authority.

Voting, elections and Democracy won't save our Constitutional Republic—instead we must limit the power of each and every person elected or appointed to positions of federal authority.

We begin our work by refusing to listen to the incessant drivel of fraudulent wizards who seek to lead us astray, so they may extend a false jurisdiction over us. Instead, we start doing our own work.

In four short video lessons, I've introduced you to the devious means used to short-circuit the U.S. Constitution and bend it towards evil, by using the essentially-unlimited powers allowed in the District Seat, beyond District boundaries.

There's almost no way for you to understand all the ramifications of this newfound information on your first hearing of it. Therefore, I urge you to continue until you understand the important information. Simply keep putting one foot in front of the other, along the right path, and you'll get there, in time.

The Patriot Corps firmly believes that a directed and knowledgeable joint effort, working towards a common goal, will produce greater results, in a shorter period of time. Therefore, the goal of the Patriot Corps is to build up a corps of men and women, and even children, who work together to achieve a common goal, more quickly and efficiently than one may do working all alone.

Since the hour is late and we've been losing precious ground for far too long, the Patriot Corps respectfully requests that you seriously consider becoming a Patriot Corps member to support our work. In that way we may create additional tools in a shorter period of time and help bring more patriots forward more rapidly to resist the ever-escalating tyranny.

The Patriot Corps will take every effort to teach you the information you need to become a more effective patriot. Together we can engage in the figurative battle against false wizards and evil witches today, so we don't have to join together in a literal battle against their flying monkeys, tomorrow.

For those interested, I'd also like to invite you to sign up for our video course, Building Awareness of Republican Knowledge. There, we'll help teach you to BARK like crazy, to draw appropriate attention to the only thing that matters politically.

Our BARK video course covers the information introduced to you in this SNIFF course, in greater detail, spread out over a longer period of time, with added learning tools, and additional help. We'll also spend time there on the available cures, to either contain the "Big Powers" to the "Little Implementation Areas," or repeal them both.

And, for those so inclined, also in the works is our Patriot Corps Recruiter Program, to allow patriots to earn affiliate commissions selling Patriot Corps memberships, courses, and printed books.

No matter your specific path forward, you can become confident working toward a better tomorrow, where our best days lie ahead, where limited government is cherished, and where liberty is again allowed to blossom.

While this concludes the SNIFF video course, please continue to the next video, where I introduce the Patriot Corps ROAR-PATH, the Patriot Corps pathway to Restore Our American Republic, by Patriots Attacking The Heart of the single political problem Americans face at the federal level.

God bless these United States of America, and the Republic upon which they were founded.

Copyrighted by Matt Erickson:
August 15, 2023