All planets can bring beneficial or malevolent energies or expressions into our lives.

Our astrological birth charts provide a map or blueprint for how these energies will affect us throughout our lives. We can also develop relationships with the energies of the planets and Sun/Moon, and work with those energies in conscious ways to shift and alter the impact of their effects. By working with the planets in meditation, making offerings, calling on them in manifestation or co-creative practices, we can boost and strengthen their beneficial aspects in our lives.
