John T. Krotec is a U.S. Army veteran, serial entrepreneur, author, speaker, and founder of NeoMasculinity Solutions: a global brand and self-autonomy movement dedicated to helping leaders of all backgrounds, both men and women, reclaim their purpose, live through truth, and lead with clarity.

With over four decades' experience in business, from start-up to successful exit, John specializes in redefining leadership, emotional resilience, men's wellness, overcoming trauma, and bringing critical thinking to our front door.

From guiding high-altitude expeditions in the Andes to building an $11Mil retail business without the internet and hosting influential podcasts: he is today's Renaissance Man.

John delivers riveting keynotes, workshops, and interviews on leadership, critical thinking, overcoming adversity, and successfully transitioning from the military back into civilian life.

His story reads like a feature film: after surviving a traumatic brain injury and confronting long-buried trauma, John rebuilt his life through creative healing practices, soul purpose reconnection, formed The Brainary, and authored the Sentinel Handbook, a simple, practical PDF tool for self-agency written for the every-day man.

His message is clear: truth is worth protecting, clarity is worth cultivating, and leadership is a responsibility - not just a role.
