SPECIALIZED LITERACY THERAPY FOR NEURODIVERGENT LEARNERS

I help students with dyslexia, dysgraphia, ADHD, and ASD become confident, capable readers and writers using evidence-based, engaging instruction designed for how their brains work.

My approach blends phonics and morphology through a linguistics-based framework, giving students powerful tools to truly understand the structure of the English language—not just memorize it.

Every session is:

- Fully personalized to your child's academic, emotional, and energy needs
- Built around fun, connection, and trust to keep students engaged
- Designed to strengthen both skills and self-confidence

This is more than tutoring—it's a process of helping students rebuild their relationship with learning while making real, measurable progress.

PARENTS GET:

- Quarterly parent coaching sessions to review progress, share insights, and collaborate on next steps
- Review of IEP and 504 plans
- Collaboration with teachers via email

KIDDOS GET:

- Customized lesson planning for every 50 minute session
- Individually designed homework and practice materials
- Ongoing formal and informal assessment to guide instruction and track progress
- Ongoing progress monitoring and adjustments
- Optional handwriting assessment and intervention
- A playful, supportive environment that fosters confidence and growth
