IMANI J'NAE

"If you want it, you Betta Work It."

Artist Bio

Imani J'nae is part singer, part rapper, part performer, and 100% a star in the making. Effortlessly blending infectious melodies, confident lyricism, and undeniable charisma, she represents a new generation of female artists who are fearless enough to define success on their own terms.

Raised on music, dance, and entertainment, Imani J'nae developed a passion for performing at an early age. Whether she's commanding a stage with high-energy choreography or captivating listeners through her playful confidence and authentic storytelling, she brings a level of presence that instantly demands attention.

Her latest single, "Betta Work It," is more than a song! It's an anthem. Built on infectious production, bold confidence, and unapologetic femininity, the record encourages listeners to own every room they enter, embrace their ambition, and never apologize for shining. It's music for the women who know their worth, put in consistent work, and look good doing it.

Signed to PowerSource Entertainment, Imani J'nae is building a brand that extends beyond music into fashion, fitness, entertainment, and culture. Her style is effortlessly glamorous, her personality is magnetic, and her work ethic reflects the title of her latest release: if you want it, you Betta Work It.

With each release, live performance, and visual, Imani continues to establish herself as one of the industry's most exciting emerging artists. She's not chasing trends! She's creating moments. And this is only the beginning. Follow the movement. The future is Imani J'nae.

Confidence. Beauty. Ambition. Authentic. Energy.
